3. Description

3.1 History, present business and background of the Portfolio Manager

Compound Everyday Capital Management LLP (the LLP) is a limited liability partnership incorporated under the Limited Liability Partnership Act 2008 vide certificate of registration issued by Registrar of Companies, Gwalior, Madhya Pradesh.

This LLP was preceded by a multi family office under the aegis of Compound Everyday Capital that was founded by the portfolio manager in 2012 to manage the wealth of few close families under value investing framework. Before setting up the multi family office, the portfolio manager had worked as EA to the Chairman, Enam Securities Pvt. Ltd. In 7 years

2012-2019 the multi family office delivered 21.8% audited returns net of expenses and before fees. This was achieved without use of leverage and/ or derivatives and with average portfolio turnover under 8%. With rising requests from more friends and family the existing structure became complex to manage and it was decided to transition to a separately managed account structure in form of Portfolio Management Services. The LLP received registration as Portfolio Manager under the SEBI (Portfolio Managers) Regulations 2020 on April 12, 2019 vide registration number PM/INP000006633.

5. Services Offered

Discretionary Portfolio Service

The Portfolio Manager offers Discretionary Portfolio service under one investment approach– CED Long Term Focused Value.

Investment Objective: The investment objective of the approach is to generate sustainable risk-adjusted absolute returns over long term.

Investment Philosophy: The Portfolio Manager invests based on value investing principles with an emphasis on protection of capital. Stocks represent part ownership in earnings and net assets of underlying businesses. Every business has an intrinsic value that is a function of future free cashflows which is influenced by the interplay of market, management and luck. Stock price – a manifestation of human emotions, while reflects the intrinsic value over long run, is like an emotional pendulum in the short run which often materially diverges from intrinsic value owing to capital flows and human emotions & biases. We try to buy at or below intrinsic value and like seeing that value grow over time. The trio of our long term orientation, human emotions (fear) and institutional disinterest will keep giving opportunities to do that.

Investment Process: We buy below intrinsic value and sell above intrinsic value. Since intrinsic values are difficult to assess, we focus on simple yet sustainable businesses, run by honest and able management and available at bargain prices. Often such businesses are not cheap. We wait for market/business dislocations or institutional compulsions/fear/disinterest for right price. We normally restrict our portfolio to 10-20 positions. Our investment horizon is for 3-5 years or even more if the stocks remain good and inexpensive.

Types of securities – The approach shall invest in equity shares mainly. In event of lack of reasonably priced opportunities the funds may be temporarily parked in interest bearing securities, liquid mutual fund or liquid ETF. The approach/ portfolio manager shall not invest in associates/group companies of the portfolio manager

Benchmark: The performance of the approach shall be benchmarked with BSE Sensex 500 TRI (total returns index).

Investment Advisory Service

Under these services the clients are provided non binding investment advice based on which they can make take their independent investment actions. Our investment advice uses the research services of Portfolio Management Service and delivers advice to clients on periodic basis to ensure a reasonable risk-adjusted return over long term.

Note: In all the above services, the clients are provided an option to be on-boarded directly without intermediation of persons engaged in distribution services.

6. Risk Factors

The investments made in securities are subject to market risk and there is no assurance or guarantee that the objectives of investments will be achieved. Following are the risk factors as perceived by management:

- a) Investment in equities, derivatives and mutual funds and Exchange Traded Index Funds are subject to market risks and there is no assurance or guarantee that the objective of investments will be achieved.
- b) As with any investment in securities, the Net Asset Value of the portfolio can go up or down depending upon the factors and forces affecting the capital markets.
- c) The performance of the portfolio may be affected by changes in Government policies, general levels of interest rates and risks associated with trading volumes, liquidity and settlement systems in equity and debt markets.
- d) The past performance of the Portfolio Manager does not indicate its future performance. Investors are not being offered any guaranteed returns.
- e) The performance of the Assets of the Client may be adversely affected by the performance of individual securities, changes in the market place and industry specific and macro economic factors.
- f) Investments in debt instruments and other fixed income securities are subject to default risk, liquidity risk and interest rate risk. Interest rate risk results from changes in demand and supply for money and other macroeconomic factors and creates price changes in the value of the debt instruments. Consequently, the Net Asset Value of the portfolio may be subject to fluctuation.
- g) Investments in debt instruments are subject to reinvestment risks as interest rates prevailing on interest amount or maturity due dates may differ from the original coupon of the bond, which might result in the proceeds being invested at a lower rate.
- h) Engaging in securities lending is subject to risks related to fluctuations in collateral value/settlement/liquidity/counter party.
- i) The Portfolio Manager may use derivatives instruments like index futures, stock futures and options contracts, warrants, convertible securities, swap agreements or any other derivative instruments for the purpose of hedging and portfolio balancing, as permitted under the Regulations and guidelines. Usage of derivatives will expose the Portfolio to certain risks inherent to such derivatives. As and when the Portfolio Manager deals in the derivatives market on behalf of the Client, there are risk factors and issues concerning the use of derivatives that investors should understand.
- j) Derivative products are specialized instruments that require investment techniques and risk analyses different from those associated with stocks and bonds. The use of a derivative requires an understanding not only of the underlying instrument but of the derivative itself. Derivatives require the maintenance of adequate controls to monitor the transactions entered into, the ability to assess the risk that a derivative adds to the portfolio and the ability to forecast price or interest rate movements correctly. There is the possibility that a loss may be sustained by the portfolio as a result of the failure of another party (usually referred to as the "counter party") to comply with the terms of the derivatives contract. Other risks in using derivatives include the risk of mispricing or improper valuation of derivatives and the inability of derivatives to correlate perfectly with underlying assets, rates and indices. Thus, derivatives are highly leveraged instruments. Even a small price movement in the underlying security could have a large impact on their value.
- k) There are inherent risks arising out of investment objectives, investment strategy, asset allocation and non-diversification of portfolio.
- l) The Net Asset Value may be affected by changes in settlement periods and transfer procedures.

16.Details of Investment in the Securities of related parties of the portfolio Manager

No investments are made in the securities of related parties of the Portfolio Manager. In future as well the Portfolio Manager shall not invest in the securities of its related parties beyond what is allowed under the Portfolio Manager Regulations and circulars issued under as amended from time to time.

17.Details of diversification policy of the portfolio manager.

Diversification is an important part of risk management framework of the Portfolio Manager. The Portfolio Manager looks for good quality companies run by able and honest management across market capitalisation and sectors on bottom up basis without any sectorial bias in its one and only multi cap strategy. Within this universe, companies that are available at reasonable valuations make way to the portfolio. Reasonable valuations are those that ensure that each position at least beats inflation over medium to long term. In case of sparse opportunities, the funds may be parked in liquid funds or liquid ETFs.

With this idea in mind, the Portfolio Manager invests in 10-30 such companies. Unless there are compelling reasons, no individual company will have more than 10% weight on cost basis and 20% on market value basis. There are no sectorial caps but the goal of portfolio construction is to have uncorrelated positions so that single factors/ events donot drive all the companies in one direction.

We believe that investing in 10-30 good quality companies run by able and honest management acquired at a price that has high probability of beating inflation over medium to long term lowers overall portfolio risks.
